SONNETS :—

I. From fairest creatures we desire increase	113
II. When forty winters shall besiege thy brow	113
III. Look in thy glass, and tell the face thou viewest	114
IV. Unthrifty loveliness, why dost thou spend	114
V. Those hours, that with gentle work did frame	115
VI. Then let not winter's ragged hand deface	115
VII. Lo, in the Orient when the gracious light	116
VIII. Music to hear, why hear'st thou music sadly	116
IX. Is it for fear to wet a widow's eye	117
X. For shame! deny that thou bear'st love to any	117
XI. As fast as thou shalt wane, so fast thou grow'st	118
XII. When I do count the clock that tells the time	118
XIII. O, that you were yourself! but, love, you are	119
XIV. Not from the stars do I my judgment pluck	119
XV. When I consider every thing that grows	120
XVI. But wherefore do not you a mightier way	120
XVII. Who will believe my verse in time to come	121
XVIII. Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?	121
XIX. Devouring Time, blunt thou the lion's paws	122
XX. A woman's face with Nature's own hand painted	122
