This Manual is issued by command of the Army Council. It deals with the general principles which are to govern the training in peace and leading in war of Horse, Field, Mountain, and Heavy Artillery, and forms the basis of the Training of R.G.A. Companies armed with movable armament. The attention of commanders is drawn to "Training and Manœuvre Regulations," Section 3.

Any enunciation by officers responsible for training, of principles or practice of methods differing in principle from those laid down in this Manual, is forbidden as tending to cause confusion of thought and to prejudice successful co-operation in war.
