

LONDON · IN 1857.

1130494

L O N D O N

H 115
383

IV

[TEMPLE BAR.]

BY PETER CUNNINGHAM, F. S. A.

LONDON :
JOHN MURRAY, ALBEMARLE STREET.

By the same Author, u 42009-54

LONDON, PAST AND PRESENT ; Being an Alphabetical Account of all the Remarkable Places connected with Historical and Antiquarian Associations, IN AND NEAR LONDON, containing Notices of the

OLD INNS AND TAVERNS.
HOUSES OF THE OLD NOBILITY.
PLACES OF ENTERTAINMENT.
OLD LONDON SIGHTS.
ANCIENT THEATRES AND CROSSES.
HOSTELS OF CHURCH DIGNITARIES.
PRIVILEGED PLACES FOR DEBTORS.
OLD LONDON PRISONS.

THE WARDS AND CHURCHES OF
LONDON.
RESIDENCES OF REMARKABLE MEN.
STREETS REMARKABLE FOR SOME EVENT.
BURIAL PLACES OF EMINENT INDIVI-DUALS.

Second Edition, with an Index. Post 8vo, 16s.

"When we perceive the amount of original research and curious reading which the author brings to bear on the subject, his precise arrangement and scrupulous accuracy, then it is that we feel constrained to say that we have already had books enough of loosely compiled anecdote, and that Mr. Cunningham has in this Handbook laid the foundation of what we really want about London—something systematised, defined, and ascertained."

Gentleman's Magazine.

II.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY ; ITS ART, ARCHITECTURE, AND ASSOCIATIONS. 16mo, 1s. *

---

In Preparation,

HANDBOOK TO THE ENVIRONS OF LONDON.

ADVERTISEMENT

TO THE FOURTH EDITION.

In my advertisement to the third edition of this work, I observed "that I had endeavoured to place myself in the position of a well-informed guide seeking to give a stranger in London every requisite information respecting lodgings, eating-houses, places of amusement, &c; of one whose aim it had been to point out those features of the metropolis best worth seeing, with the way in which they might be seen to the best advantage."

In this new edition I have sought to carry out the same intention; have made many additions and corrections; and, as far as it was possible, have brought up all useful information to the day of publication.

For other particulars, as well as for a more detailed and historical account of antiquarian London, and of streets and places no longer existing, I must refer the reader to the "Handbook for London, Past and Present."

PETER CUNNINGHAM.

VICTORIA ROAD, KENSINGTON,
May 13, 1856.