GENTLEMAN UPCOTT'S DAUGHTER.

I.

LADY-DAY.

PROCESSION of waggons was drawn up in the open space before
"The Sparkford Inn."
The old sign-board shone in the sun and shook in the March wind. Around the porch beneath clustered a waggoner and his boys. The host having brought out a quart cup, stood by for a gossip. The waggoner drank deeply and seriously. Reflected. Drank again : then smiled wisely.

"Come vrom out round Cadbury, zumwhere, I'll goo bail."

"Zo did."
