

MADAME H. P. BLAVATSKY.

---

[BY PERMISSION OF ENRICO RESTA.]

141
WHAT IS THEOSOPHY?

A Handbook for Enquirers

INTO THE

WISDOM-RELIGION;

Being an Outline of Theosophical Teachings Relating to Man and the Universe, Occultism, etc.

BY

WALTER R. OLD, F.T.S.

WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY

ANNIE BESANT,

FELLOW OF THE THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

Portraits of Madame H. P. Blavatsky and Colonel H. S. Olcott.

SECOND EDITION

LONDON: HAY NISBET & CO., 169, FLEET STREET,
AND 25 JAMAICA STREET, GLASGOW.

1892.

B. K. Schmitt

HAY NISBET AND CO., 25 JAMAICA STREET GLASGOW,
AND
169, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

CONTENTS.

---

PAGE

INTRODUCTION, . . . . .	5
-------------------------	---

CHAPTER I.—THE BROAD QUESTION, . . . .	9
--	---

Theosophy in the Past—The Theosophical Society—
Madame Blavatsky—Colonel Olcott.

CHAPTER II.—THE UNIVERSE, . . . . .	23
-------------------------------------	----

Essential Unity—Manifestation—The Trinity of Life, Consciousness, and Substance—Differentiation—The Cosmos—
Rounds and Races. CYCLES—Manvantara and Pralaya—
The Seven Ages—Astronomical Data—Day and Night—
The Law of Alternation.

CHAPTER III.—MAN—A SEPTENARY BEING, . . .	34
---	----

The Seven Principles—The Analogy of the Septenary and Tripartite Systems of the East and West—The Astral
Body and the Thought Form—Projection—Repercussion.
MICROCOSM AND MACROCOSM—Man's Relation to the Universe—The Law of Correspondences—Unity of Consciousness—The Universal Mind—Infinite Presence—Time and Distance as Illusions of the Human Mind—Manas;
its Dual Nature—Prana, the Living Substance of Nature—
Life as the Cause of Death—The Astral Light—Elementals
—Atoms and Molecules.

CHAPTER IV.—AFTER DEATH, . . . . .	46
------------------------------------	----

Dissolution—Kama-Loka—The Second Death—Obsession
—Devachan—The Period of Rest—Its Duration and Nature
—A Fragment from a Master's Letter—Spiritualism on the
After-Life—The Awakening of the Sleeper. RE-INCARNATION—
Different Theories of Soul-Origin—The Anomalies
of Science and Religion—Genius—Divine Injustice—Divine
Obliquity—The Logical Position—Character, an Individual
Property—The Laws of Necessity and Affinity—The Process of Re-incarnation—Memory of Past Incarnation.

CHAPTER V.—KARMA, . . . . . 58

The Continuity of Creative Impulse—Karma not Nemesis—Illustrations from Murder and Suicide—Equilibrium and Harmony—Thought as a Creative Power—The Law of Progress—Motive as Related to Action—Cumulative Karma
—The Law of Adaptation. ETHICS—Solidarity of the Human Race—Isolation Impossible—The Unity of Life—
Happiness and Sorrow—The Power of Knowledge—All Distinctions regarded as Limitations—Action, Will, and Thought—Tolerance—Causes of the Waste of Energy—
The Nature of Experience—The Necessity for Change.

CHAPTER VI.—STATES OF MATTER, . . . . . 74

The Phenomena of Form and Sound—Rates of Vibration convertible—Permeability, the Fourth Characteristic—The Interblend of the Different Planes—Obscuration of Solid Bodies—The Unseen Populace of this Earth—Evolution of the Senses—Unknown States of Matter—Correlation of Forces—Precipitation—Practical Illustration—Allotropism.

CHAPTER VII.—STATES OF CONSCIOUSNESS, . . . . . 82

Subject and Object—Consciousness, the Property of Mind
—Primary and Secondary Divisions in States of Consciousness—Waking, Dreaming, Sleeping—Phenomena of Sleep
—Abnormal States—The Wraith or Double—The Waking
Vision—Classification of Dreams—Somnambulism—Waking Reverie—Concentration—Conscious Dreaming.

CHAPTER VIII.—THE MAHATMAS, . . . . . 94

Adepts, Rishis, and Sages—The Great Order—The Classes of Adepts—Grades of Initiates and Chelas—Female Adepts
—How Mahatmas are Seen—Their Existence a Logical
Necessity—Their Existence a Fact—Evidence of Witnesses
—Mahatmas Mentioned in the Vedas—Discipline and Will
—The 'Three Vestures'—Self-Sacrifice—The Great Renunciation.

CHAPTER IX.—OCCULT STUDY, . . . . . 107

First Steps—Conditions of Study—Chelaship—The Uphill
Path—Relation of Teacher and Pupil—Occult Development
The Four Accomplishments—The Benefits of Occult Study
—The T.S. and its Attitude to Practical Occultism.

CONCLUSION, . . . . . 118

The Design of this Treatise—Theosophy and Modern Science—Modern Christianity—Spiritualism—Psychism and Occultism—Notes for Inquirers.