

THE STORY OF EXTINCT CIVILIZATIONS
OF THE EAST

U - 1534

“ . . . A noble end it is to inquire into the remains of long-departed races, and to inquire, not by theory and conjecture, but by an examination of actual facts.”

PROF. MAHAFFY, D.D.

“ He says it is part of his creed that history is poetry could we tell it aright.”—EMERSON, speaking of CARLYLE.

THE MOABITE STONE (see pp. 22, 23)

H 674
50

Ä

THE STORY
OF
EXTINCT CIVILIZATIONS
OF THE EAST

BY

ROBERT E. ANDERSON, M.A., F.A.S.

*Author of "Early England," "The Stuart Period," &c.
Contributor to Chambers's Encyclopædia, Encyclopædia Britannica,
Dict. Nat. Biography, &c.*

WITH MAPS, ETC.

LONDON: GEORGE NEWNES, LTD.
SOUTHAMPTON STREET, STRAND

1897

11v-29

Ä

CONTENTS

CHAP.	PAGE
INTRODUCTION . . . . .	9
I. ORIGIN AND RACES OF MANKIND . . .	13
II. CHALDEA AND BABYLONIA . . . . .	24
III. ANCIENT EGYPT . . . . .	49
IV. HITTITES, PHENICIANS, AND HEBREWS .	71
V. THE ARAB . . . . .	115
VI. IRAN, OR ANCIENT PERSIA . . . . .	147