

BOOKS ALREADY PUBLISHED

. . . IN . . .

“UNWIN’S LIBRARY”

Per Volume, M. 1.50 or Fr. 2

-
- No. 33. Major Weir. By K. L. MONTGOMERY.
 32. Children of Endurance. By LUCAS CLEEVE.
 31. Love Triumphant. By Mrs L. T. MEADE.
 29, 30. The Story of my Struggles. By ARMINIUS VAMBÉRY. 2 Vols.
 28. Meadowsweet and Rue. By SILAS K. HOCKING.
 27. The Filigree Ball. By ANNA KATHERINE GREEN.
 26. The Black Shilling. By AMELIA E. BARR.
 25. Chinkie's Flat. By LOUIS BECKE.
 24. The Vineyard. By JOHN OLIVER HOBBS.
 23. Nyria By Mrs CAMPBELL PRAED.
 22. Through Sorrow's Gates. By HALLIWELL SUTCLIFFE.
 21. The Cardinal's Pawn. By K. L. MONTGOMERY.
 20. The Mis-rule of Three. By FLORENCE WARDEN.
 19. Dreams. By OLIVE SCHREINER.
 18. Helen Adair. By LOUIS BECKE.
 17. That Fast Miss Blount. By ROY HORNIMAN.
 16. The Dayspring. By WILLIAM BARRY.
 15. The Valkyries. By E. F. BENSON. With 12 Illustrations by T. NOYES LEWIS.
 14. Anglo-Americans. By LUCAS CLEEVE.
 13. Rosemonde. By BEATRICE STOTT.
 12. The Mischief of a Glove. By Mrs PHILIP CHAMPION DE CRESPIGNY.
 11. A Drama of Sunshine. Played in Homburg. By Mrs AUBREY RICHARDSON.
 10. Little Entertainments and De Omnibus. By BARRY PAIN.
 9. The Flame and The Flood. By ROSAMOND LANGRIDGE.
 8. Eben Holden. By IRVING BACHELLER.
 7. The Stickit Minister. By S. R. CROCKETT.
 6. The Man in the Street. By LUCAS CLEEVE.
 5. Vanity: The Confessions of a Court Modiste. By RITA.
 4. The Romance of a Midshipman. By W. CLARK RUSSELL.
 3. Love and the Soul Hunters. By JOHN OLIVER HOBBS.
 1, 2. Memoirs of Paul Kruger, Four Times President of the South African Republic. Told by HIMSELF. In 2 Vols.

---

“UNWIN’S LIBRARY” will contain the latest and best books of many prominent English and American authors, which will be issued in this series simultaneously with, or shortly after, the publication of the original edition. The books published in “Unwin’s Library” are copyrighted under the Berne Convention, and cannot be published in any similar edition on the Continent. “Unwin’s Library” must not be taken into the United Kingdom or any of its dependencies.

T. FISHER UNWIN.

STARS OF DESTINY

Unwin's Library

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

THE POET AND PENELOPE.

Crown 8vo, cloth, 6s.

"Clever it undoubtedly is. . . . The love of Penelope for the Poet, and of the Poet for Penelope, is real; and the author, in telling us the story of it, manages to infuse it with genuine human emotion."—Academy.

"To try to convey the charm of 'The Poet and Penelope' would be a vain thing. There is a little love-making, a little mystery, a little suffering, and that is all. And, nevertheless, the book is delightful from first to last."—World.

"The whole story is full of odd bits of charm and pleasant passages, and it has that indefinable thing, atmosphere."—Standard.

"If, as we believe, this is Mr Parry Truscott's first essay in novel-writing, we shall look forward with great interest to his next work. . . . It gives evidence of so much skill in the delineation of character, so much appreciation and sympathy, as well as of real aptitude for bright, crisp writing, that there is very high promise for the future."—Daily Telegraph.

AS A TREE FALLS.

Fcap. 8vo, cloth, 2s.; paper, 1s. 6d. (THE PSEUDONYM LIBRARY).

"A singularly strong piece of work—strong in expression, strong in restraint, strong in dramatic power, strong in artistic unity."—Outlook.

"Realism in its English form, and realism which is not hampered by too much detail. . . . Such a work as this demonstrates, if any one required the demonstration, that English fiction can be as sincere and honest as that of any other country."—Daily Chronicle.

"A pathetic and interesting story without respect of persons. . . . The result is piquantly unlike anything that we remember. . . . That a wife's suggestion to her husband to 'stir them coals together' should seem to us a stroke of genius is a view that requires a perusal of the whole story to perceive and to confirm."—Graphic.

"'The Pseudonym Library' has re-started with a little work distinct in character and talent. The skill is remarkable."—Times.

MOTHERHOOD.

Crown 8vo, cloth, 6s.

"One of the strongest and most capably written novels the year has yet brought us. . . . The chief characters of the story are drawn vividly, truthfully, and with a rare psychological cunning. . . . A striking and original book."—Daily Mail.

"A novel altogether out of the common, of quite exceptional interest and achievement."—Sunday Special.

"'Motherhood' is a tale far beyond the average of novels of the day."—Punch.

LONDON: T. FISHER UNWIN.

1917
A
STARS OF DESTINY

By
L. PARRY TRUSCOTT

T. FISHER UNWIN

LONDON

11 PATERNOSTER BUILDINGS

PARIS

174-176 BOULEVARD, ST GERMAIN

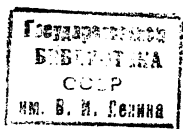

LEIPZIG

INSELSTRASSE 20

TURIN

VIA PO 11

MCMV

У 7306-50

[All rights reserved.]