

U.S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY
EXPLORATION OF THE
CHINESE MOUNTAINS

THE LUSHAI EXPEDITION.

A GROUP : — LUSHAI — POI — LUSHAI — SOKTÉ.

THE LUSHAI EXPEDITION.

1871—1872.

BY

R. G. WOODTHORPE,

LIEUT. ROYAL ENGINEERS.

VONOLEL'S TOMB.

LONDON:
HURST AND BLACKETT, PUBLISHERS
13, GREAT MARLBOROUGH STREET.

1873.

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I.

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|
| THE NORTH EASTERN FRONTIER—HISTORICAL RETROSPECT— POLICY OF CONCILIATION—FORMER EXPEDITIONS—ANNEXA- TION OF CACHAR PROPER—TEA-GARDENS—THE KOKIE TRIBE—FIRST APPEARANCE OF THE LUSHAIIS—CHIEF LALAL —HIS FOUR SONS—RAIDS IN SYLHET, CACHAR, &c.—COLONEL LISTER'S EXPEDITION. | 1 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|

CHAPTER II.

| | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| GNURSHAILON'S RAID — CAPTAIN STEWART — TREATY WITH SUKPILAL—RENEWAL OF COMPLICATIONS—CAPTIVES DE- TAINED—REPEATED INROADS OF THE LUSHAI—MR. BAKER'S EXPEDITION—HIS DESCRIPTION OF THE COUNTRY—DEATHS OF SOME OF THE CHIEFS—ATTACKS ON VARIOUS TEA- GARDENS | 19 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|

CHAPTER III.

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| EXPEDITION OF 1871—COLONEL RABAN'S RECOMMENDATIONS— GENERAL BOURCHIER—THE ROUTE—RELATIONS WITH THE RAJAH OF MUNIPUR—BURMESE INVASIONS—VICISSITUDES OF MUNIPUR—MAJOR-GENERAL NUTHALL—INROADS OF THE EASTERN LUSHAI CHIEFS | 37 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|

CHAPTER IV.

| | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| THE TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEY OF INDIA—COOLIES—CACHAR— MUNIPUR HORSE-DEALERS — HOCKEY-PLAYERS — UNCOM- FORTABLE MODE OF RIDING—PRESENT FOR A CHIEF—TEA- GARDENS—NATIVE IDOLS—THE MONIERKHAL STOCKADE— RUMOURS OF A THREATENED ATTACK—CURIOS DIS- COVERY | 50 |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|

CHAPTER V.

| | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| THE LUSHAIIS—CHARACTERISTICS OF THREE PRINCIPAL TRIBES —FEATURES AND COMPLEXION—MUSCULAR STRENGTH—IN- TELLECTUAL APTITUDE—COSTUME—PERSONAL ADORNMENT— A LUSHAI EXQUISITE — PRACTICE OF SMOKING — TOBACCO WATER—WEAPONS—GUNPOWDER | 69 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|

CHAPTER VI.

| | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| LUSHAI VILLAGES—CONSTRUCTION OF THE HOUSES—INTERNAL ARRANGEMENTS — WINDOWS — STOCKADES—NATIVE WINE— BASKET-MAKING — DOMESTIC ANIMALS — CURIOUS MACHINE FOR ENTRAPPING GAME — AGRICULTURAL OPERATIONS — MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS—A SMITH'S FORGE | 81 |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|