INTRODUCTION.

HAVING delivered a lecture on the subject,— “Swedenborg, His Life and Writings,” which forms the basis of the matter contained in the following pages, at Glasgow, Failsworth, Keighley, Barnsley, Rhodes, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Paisley, Bradford, Manchestér, Kearsley, Oldham, Bolton, Liverpool, Rams-bottom, Bury, and Dewsbury; and having been repeatedly urged by the vote of the audiences, and otherwise, to publish it, I am now emboldened to do so in a somewhat extended form.

I would fain hope, that the perusal of this work may induce some intelligent and reflecting persons to commence an earnest investigation into the claims and teachings of Emanuel Swedenborg, “the Servant of the Lord.”
